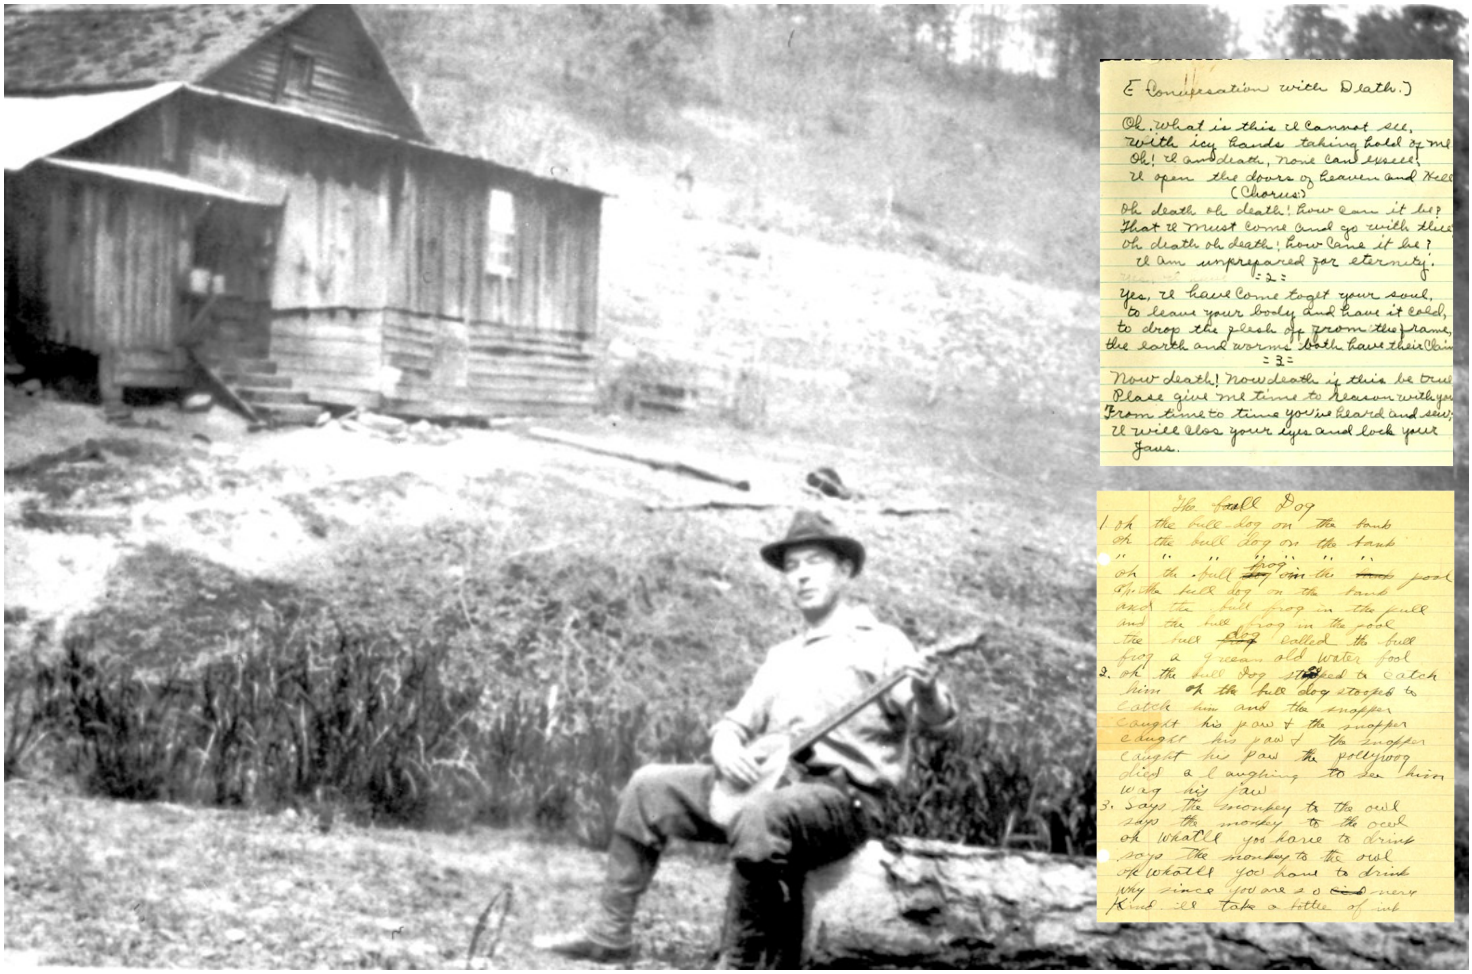
UNVEILING OUR TREASURES:

Bascom Lamar Lunsford Collection of the Southern Appalachian Archives at Mars Hill College



The Bascom Lamar Lunsford Collection of the Southern Appalachian Archives contains over 2,000 handwritten ballads and folksongs, letters, photographs, musical recordings, and an enormous scrapbook that includes the photograph shown above.

Explore the rich ballad and music traditions of Southern Appalachia with

Ms. Kristina Blackford, Class of 2012, English Major
Dr. Carol Boggess, Professor of English
Dr. Karen Paar, Ramsey Center Director and Archivist
Dr. Betty Smith, Musician and Educator

Tuesday, February 15, 2011 at 3:00 p.m.

Liston B. Ramsey Center for Regional Studies
Renfro Library, Mars Hill College

Contact Karen Paar (kpaar@mhc.edu or 828-689-1262) for more information. Free and open to the public.

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

Any views, findings, conclusions or recommendations expressed in this program do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities.